

Can Take You Places

Curriculum Components Included on the DVD/CD

Transport students into the heart of mathematics through travel-related career applications, fast-paced videos, lesson plans, and games. Algebra readiness may never be the same.

Math Can Take You Places illustrates everyday applications related to five focus areas: domain/range, equivalency, measurement, patterns, and problem solving.

INDEPENDENT PROJECT EVALUATION RESULTS

According to an independent evaluation conducted by The University of Texas at Dallas, "instruction using the Math Can Take You Places materials, lessons, videos and other resources made a statistically significant difference on the achievement of students who participated." The full executive summary is included on the Math Can Take You Places CD.

CD AND DVD COMPONENTS

Curriculum

- 25 lesson plans
- 19 games and activities
- 79 standardized-test practice questions
- Links to Web-based content at www.mathcantakeyouplaces.org

Student Videos

Five student videos written and produced by award-winning filmmaker Rob Mikuriya (The Eddie Files)

Spanish-Language Student Materials

- Lesson strategies for teachers of students with English as a Second Language (ESL) and student worksheets in Spanish
- Spanish-dubbed versions of the Student Videos
- Professional Development Training
- Five teacher professional development videos accompanied by five one-hour trainings on best practices for incorporating the Internet, using manipulatives, teaching algebraic thinking, linking learning to everyday life and effective use of video in the classroom.

Math Can Take You Places

is a Fun+Mental Media and KERA Production, funded by and in partnership with Travelocity (a Sabre Holdings company).

Toni Harrison-Kelly

Project Coordinator/Producer
KERA Educational
Resource Center

Rob Mikuriya

Writer/Producer/Director
Fun+Mental Media

Joe Bellotti

Unit Manager, KERA

Rhonda Bailey

Curriculum Consultant
The Charles A. Dana Center,
The University of Texas

Barbra Anderson

Kathi Fowler
Community Relations,
Sabre Holdings

Danny Henley

Executive in Charge
KERA Educational
Resource Center

A KERA educational project funded by Travelocity